

3rd Annual Eleanor M. Saffran Cognitive Neuroscience Conference

“Language Processing in the Multilingual Brain: Implications for Treatment of Developmental and Adult Language Disorders”

Friday, September 12, 2008

Morning Session

Trilingual agrammatism

Loraine Obler, Ph.D., Speech-Language-Hearing Sciences, The City University of New York
Mira Goral, Ph.D., Speech-Language-Hearing Sciences, The City University of New York

Age of acquisition and language proficiency in the bilingual brain

Arturo Hernandez, Ph.D., Department of Psychology, University of Houston

Lexical organization and competition in first and second languages: Computational and neural perspectives

Ping Li, Ph.D., Department of Psychology and Program in Linguistics, Pennsylvania State University

Afternoon Session

Language proficiency and phonological skills in bilingual children

Brian Goldstein, Ph.D., Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Temple University

“Specific” language impairment and children learning a second language

Kathryn Kohnert, Ph.D., Department of Speech-Language-Hearing Sciences, University of Minnesota

Bilingual aphasia: Factors affecting recovery and rehabilitation

Swathi Kiran, Ph.D., Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders, University of Texas at Austin